

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A communication device comprises a key input section for inputting a mail document and a control section for selecting from a plurality of images stored in a ROM a stamp image or a postcard image specific to an area corresponding to a CS-ID obtained through a position registration process carried out with the nearest cell station CS and for attaching the selected image to the created mail document for transmission.

006080" T05E960